Writing Prompts

Monday- Write down a fitness plan to follow until December. This should include an activity/activities you can do to stay healthy (e.g. sports, exercise class, routine), how often you plan on doing it, and what your goals are. Consider specific goals for increasing endurance, cardio, strength, and/or flexibility. For example: Do 50 jumping jacks without stopping.

Tuesday- Using the fitness plan you created yesterday, create a calendar or add your routine to your daily schedule and begin following it.

Wednesday- Using your fitness goals, create a chart that tracks your progress in each area: endurance, cardio, strength, and flexibility. Add what you can do today. Then, create places to check-in each week until Christmas break.

Thursday- Reflect upon how your fitness goals will help your body and mind stay healthy and why you chose those specific goals. Write these ideas down as motivation and begin your fitness plan. Continue it until at least the end of December.
